

CD-ROM

The CD-ROM entitled “Havana in Hi & Low FIDELity” was the first material created for this project. Is a six and a half minutes long computer animation (moving pictures and a soundtrack) made with the intention of illustrating how the state presentation would look like, since “Havana...” was first intended to be only a performance piece for the stage.

Below are some stills taken from the original animation. Some of these images are intended as sketches of futures videos and performance pieces, like the “Pueblo de Cuba: Lets talk about GE!” one. These snap pictures has been edited as a print series in a limited edition. Each print is 6.5x8 inches.
